Daily Trading Stocks

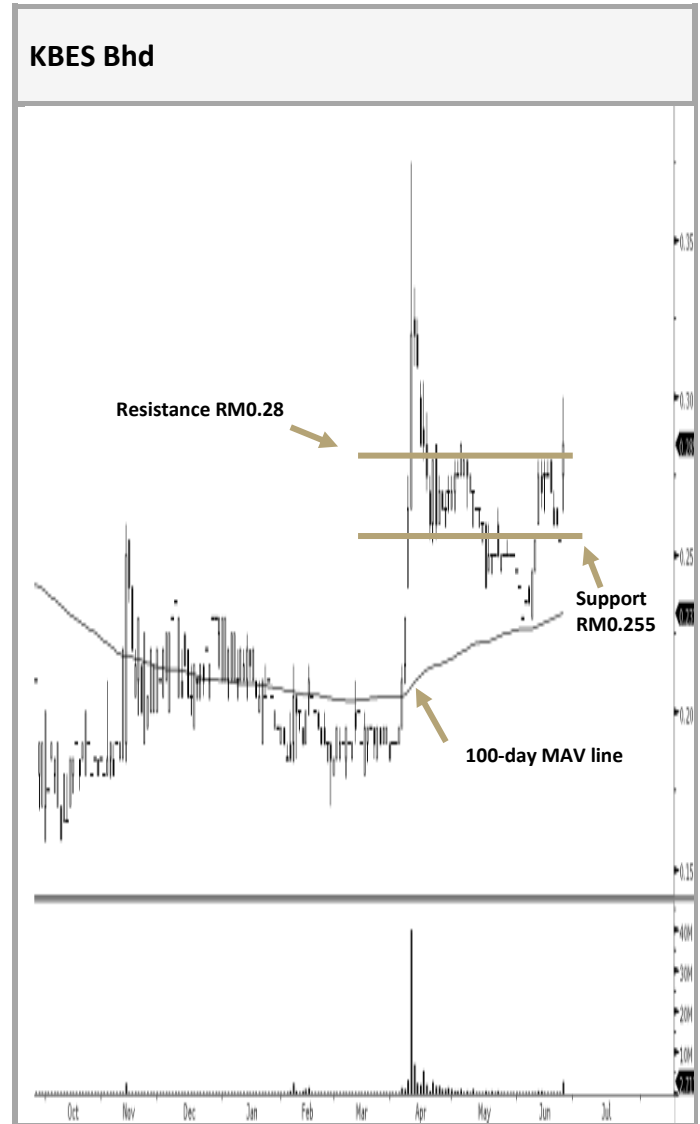

Maybank has to close above RM8.80 or risk falling further. Weakness is confirmed on another close below RM8.68 and a position can be liquidated if it happens. Supports are expected at RM8.50 and the 2012 low of RM8.20. However, a close above RM8.80 should see the continuation of a rebound. Resistance is expected at RM9.00 and RM9.25.

Sellers may have taken over after YTL failed a high volume test of the RM2.15 resistance level last week. Liquidation can be made below the 3-day high of RM2.07 and supports are expected at the Fibonacci retracements of the 2-month rally at RM1.90 and RM1.80. However, a close above RM2.15 will cancel the negative bias and it could see the stock trade higher.

Top Glove's rebound should continue if it closes above the 5-day high of RM5.20. A position can be initiated if it happens, with a close below the 3-day low of RM5.10 as stop-loss. A conservative trader may wait until a close above RM5.25 before entering. The price target is RM5.80, with selling also expected at RM5.50. The stock is likely to correct should it close below RM5.10, with supports at RM4.92 and RM4.70.

KBES should maintain its rebound if it can stay above the resistance level of RM0.28 today. A position can be initiated if that happens, with a close below the recent low of RM0.255 as stop-loss. The price target is RM0.425, provided that the recent high of RM0.38 is violated convincingly. Failure to break higher could see the stock trading sideways, with further support expected at RM0.23.

Kelington’s upward momentum should continue after it closed at its all time high. A position can be initiated above RM1.10, with a close below the gap of RM1.05 as stop-loss. The price target is RM1.33, with selling also expected at RM1.21. The trade may not work should the stop-loss be triggered but expect strong support at the psychological RM0.96.

KBB should resume its rebound if it closes above the 2-day high of RM0.50. A position can be initiated above this level, with a close below yesterday’s low of RM0.465 as stop-loss. The price target is RM0.75, provided that the recent high of RM0.60 is violated. The stock may retrace should the resistance hold and expect strong support at RM0.415.

Dayang will likely trade lower if the 4-month support level of RM1.94 is violated. Liquidation can be made if it that happens and supports should come at the Fibonacci retracements of Oct-Feb rally at RM1.83 and RM1.70. However, a close above the 1-month high of RM2.03 indicates that the support level is holding firm and a rebound is in store. Expect strong resistance at the 2012 high of RM2.20.

MAS has to close above RM1.20 or risk falling further. Weakness is confirmed on another close below the 2-week low of RM1.12 and a position can be liquidated if that happens. Strong support is expected at the psychological RM1.00 and a successful violation of that is required if the stock is to trade lower. However, a close above RM1.20 should see the continuation of a rebound and resistance is expected at RM1.30.
